ACCELERATING MEANINGFUL CHANGE

WATER

Responsible water use

We have helped our customers save more than 855 billion litres of water in a year*. By 2030, we aim to conserve 1.3 trillion litres of water per year by reducing water consumption in our own and our customers' operations.

ENERGY

Clean first time

We have helped our customers conserve more than 19 trillion BTUs of energy in a year*. Our innovative systems and procedures ensure your operations are as efficient as possible, saving precious time and resources.

WASTE

Putting a lid on plastic packaging

We saved more than 6 thousand tonnes of newly produced plastic in a year* because of innovations in the way we formulate and package products for our customers. For example, we offer alternatives to bulky liquid detergent for warewashing or laundry - with solid capsules or shrink-wrapped blocks, saving 95% of plastic packaging.

CLEAN WITHOUT A DOUBT

Nexa's hand hygiene system combines bacteria-killing chemistry, innovative dispensing & world class support:

- Anti-drip pump helps to avoid slips, falls and product waste.
- Nexa foam washes 30% more hands and requires less water and energy.*

* Lower dose volume (0.7ml vs. 1.0ml) compared to Nexa Hand soap liquid

The Nexa multi-use unit is able to dispense all types of product - gels, liquids and foams

Ecolab's housekeeping range helps you deliver outstanding guest satisfaction:

- Delight your customers with cleaner, odour-free restrooms thanks to our sanitary cleaning housekeeping range.
- Specially formulated to ensure you have the right product, cleaning tools and training aids for the task at hand.

Luxurious linens and Bedding Are Key Drivers of Guest Satisfaction

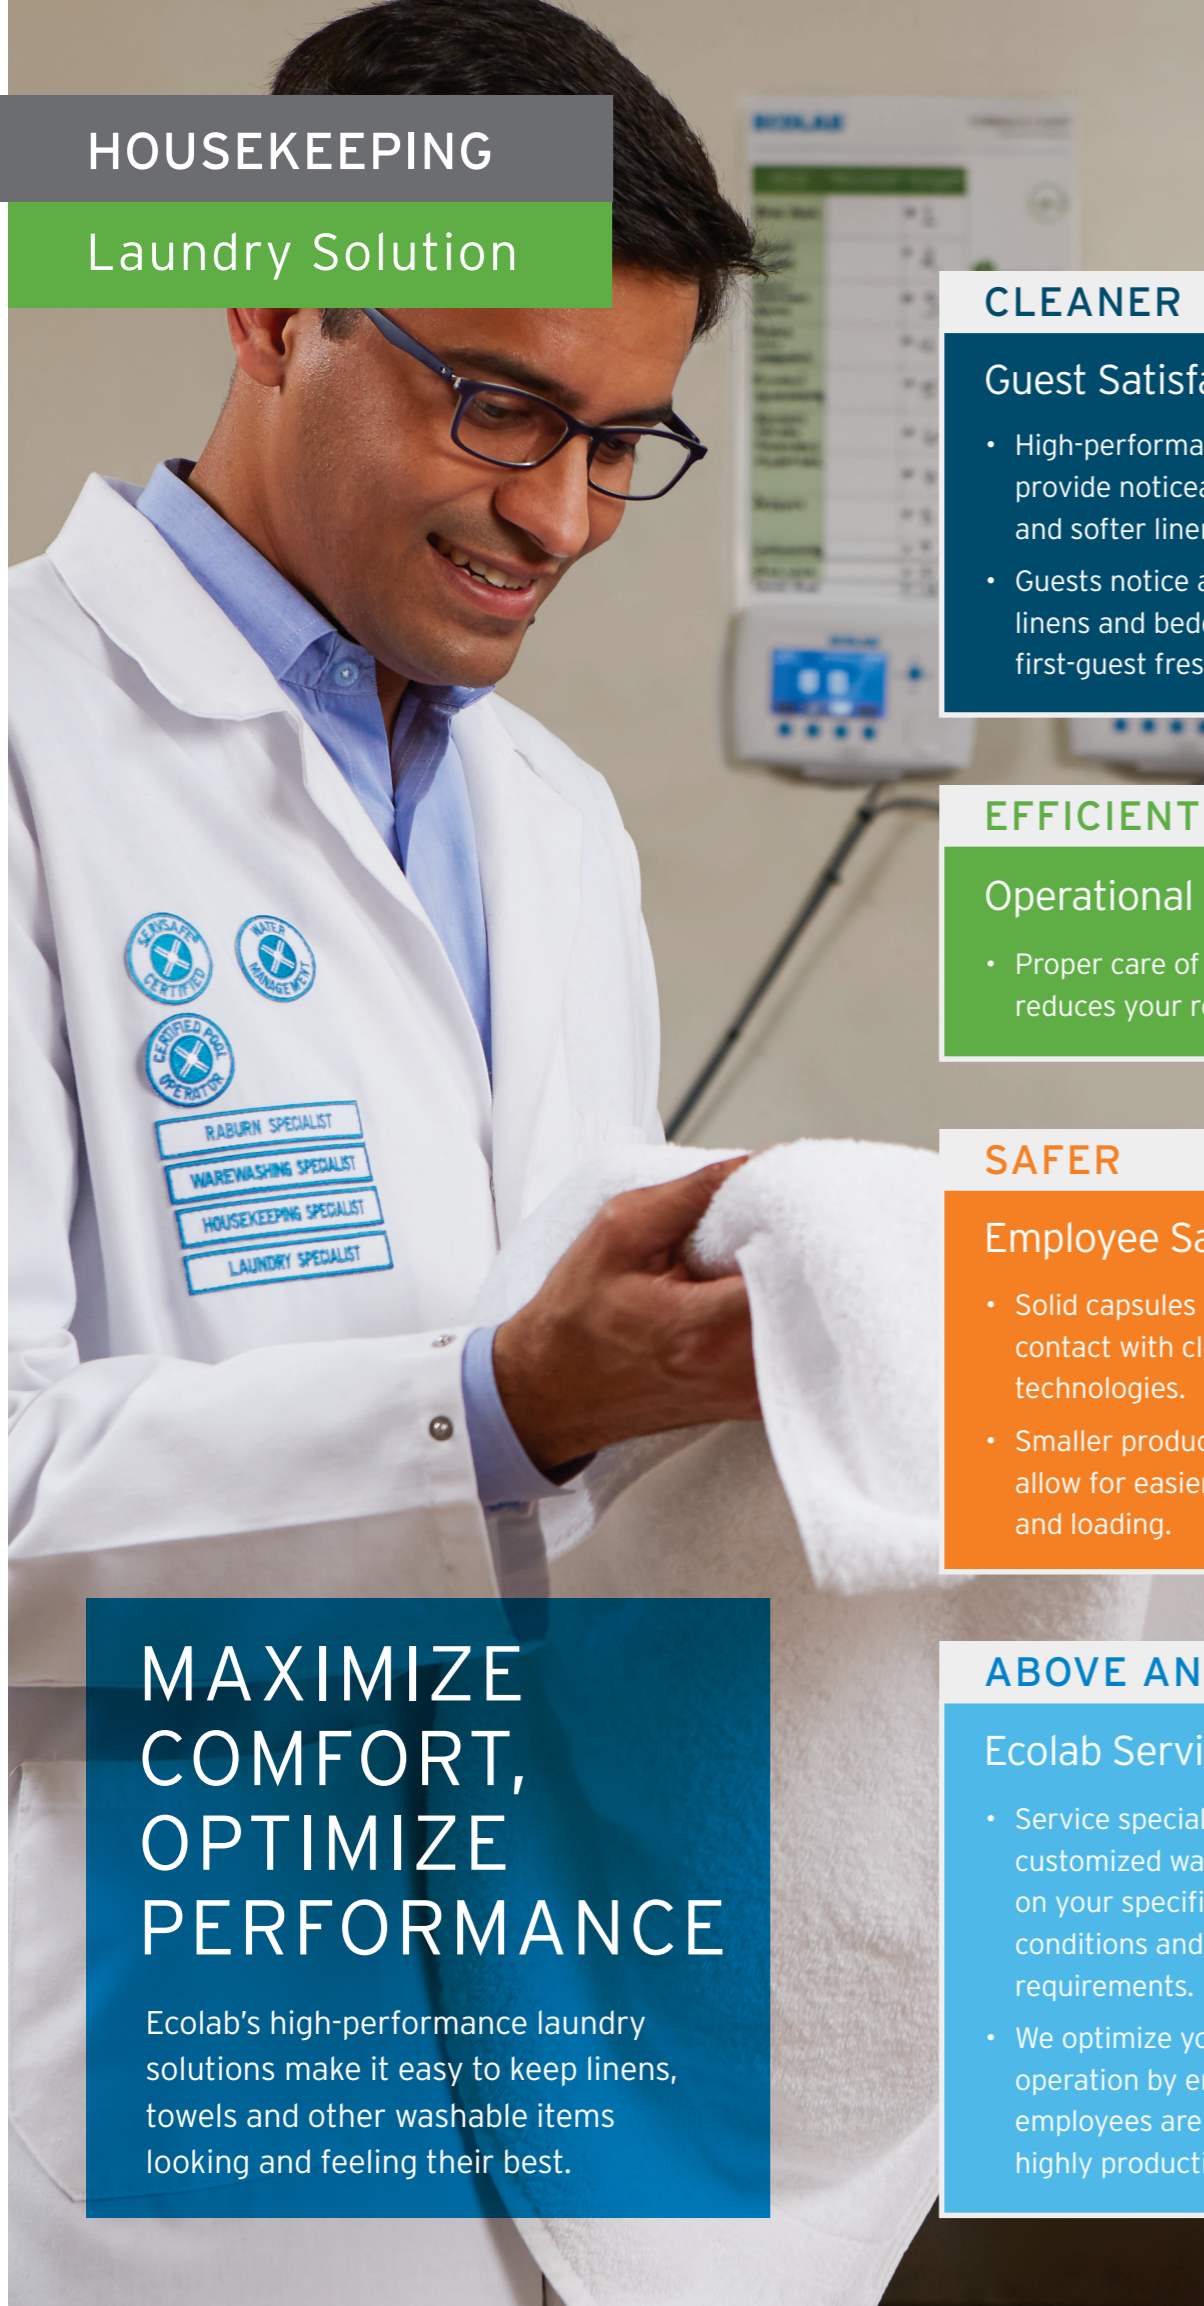

- Providing clean, white linen requires a complex knowledge of chemistry, equipment, water conditions, soil levels and the wash process.
- Soft, fresh-smelling linens are essential to providing guests with a relaxing and enjoyable stay.
- Efficiently operated laundry rooms require training and support for employees.
- Increased government regulation requires chemistry that improves environmental safety and sustainability impact.
- Efficient use of high-cost water and energy resources is increasingly important.

Your Restaurant Says a Lot About Your Hotel

- Customers ranked hygiene more important than choice of food, value for money and quality of service.*
- Poor hand hygiene is responsible for 89% of foodborne illness in which food was contaminated by food workers. But there is much more to food safety than hand hygiene.
- Equipment must be cleaned frequently and thoroughly to keep your restaurant running at peak performance.
- Failure to clean consistently can lead to food safety and health issues.
- Providing employees with a safe working place in a fast-paced environment is a challenge.
